

Great changes with the T-square of slow important planets.

When a slow planet moves, it often makes three movements. Forward, backward and forward again, a sort of dance that touches specific grades, it can create preoccupations or joys, but always a changing.

The first contact with the grade goes by unnoticed sometime, a slight cuddle: there are people who feel in the air a desire for a change, who start to focusing on a problem, and people who do not know how to solve it.

The returning of the planet, or better the passing backwards, the so-called retrograde motion, creates a rethinking, a crisis, a desire to change, but without solutions.

The third passage called direct, it is the most incisive one that always brings the fact, the turning point of events.

Now in the sky, there are many concomitant movements and the rotation of these will affect us at a universal level and for singles to at a personal level.

All of this will be more important when the "sign changes", which is when a planet goes from a sign to another: now these passages involve four slow planets.

Since the world crisis that we are all going through, not only from an economical point of view, but also ecological, we feel a continuous destabilization of values, a more and more increased aggressiveness and a continuous speeding up of habits changing.

From a general point of view, we can say that the impact of the first balancing of Saturn in Libra with Pluto in Capricorn, has been pitiless because the union (in this case it is dissonant) between will and pleasure, took the lid off and made the skeleton and deceits come out. Pluto, in fact, says: take the mask off and everything bobs up.

It comes here too, in the gulf of Mexico: the oil, represented by the manual of Pluto, which is soiling this part of the sea (Uranus in Pisces, sign of ocean), Saturn, will and responsibility, in Virgo (sign of ecology), struck the X hour. Pluto in Capricorn has the severe and painful job to demolish everything that does not work to rebuild it from the beginning.

We are going through a delicate summer, besides being hot: Jupiter with Uranus will oppose Saturn, and then this union, passing in Aries, will balance with Pluto and in September will oppose Saturn that will be entering Libra, reached, as if it is not enough, by Mars. Here there is the T-square: a cardinal cross.

What will happen? Astrology does not give clairvoyant answers, that it is the job of fortune-teller, but it can give some useful suppositions because we can ask the question to ourselves and think. Many people are unemployed, have difficulties, relates badly. The most important characteristic of this "sky" is the temporary movement of planets in different signs that interrupt the cycle. This means that from the "visited" sign, we still have to learn and then do. Aries, sign of beginnings, tells us we have to do everything from the beginning and start from other basis. The most important fact is that this T-square interests Cancer, without directly touching it, but for an action of passive throw, Cancer is the sign from where we can get some answers. Cancer is a symbol of fragility on one side; it puts up with the worst (family, children, old people and real estate agency), from the other side, the most evolutionary, it wakes up the need of female energy, a less materialistic vision of life and a great solidarity. In the end, more respect for that Cancer stands for: the Earth.

So the great challenge will be the one to build an equal and contrary force, a force that can react with consciousness and harmony to the excess of rational thought, science and consumerism, according to the old standards of Taoism that warn against the excess of Yin or Yang. If it is true that the human being is matter and spirit, science and nature, something can reawaken the Cancer memory.
